

45-18
46

2-2PP001

Henry Kaiser Builds a Plane.

Designed to find a place in the family garage, the new Kaiser-Hammond plane drives like a car, with its single elevator controlled by the steering wheel. A pusher-type engine whips up a speed of 150 miles an hour. Newest sideline of shipbuilding king Henry Kaiser, the air rumbout has a six hundred mile cruising range, does 15 miles to the gallon, and carries five passengers.