

FAMILY FLIES HOME BY BOMBER

To a back drop of his four-engined Halifax Bomber, Australian Captain Wikner with his twenty prospective passengers. Refused a priority sea passage, Captain Wikner bought the aircraft and heads for Australia in veteran bomber Waltring Matilda, the plane he used on war service. It's a big event for the Wikner family and what boy would pass-up a chance of a trip in a Halifax with history.

Wikner

I want to introduce all my passengers to Waltring Matilda which is your serial chariot, and which I hope will take you safely to Australia. I am taking with me my wife Trudie, my daughter Isobel Christina, and my son Val. The crew consists of ex-RAF personnel all thoroughly experienced on the job they are going to undertake on this flight.
