

HORSIES TRAIN FOR LONDON PARADE

Rattles, flags and a jangle of sounds feature the final passing out tests at London's school for police horses. All star pupils, the prize they're trying for is a place among the 200 mounted police who will take part in London's Victory Parade.

If you should happen to fall by the wayside, the horse jumps over you. If you want a better view its no use shoving the horse.

Graduation day and the stars of Inber Court school line up to get their diplomas. If you see 'em on the V-parade, remember you'll be looking at a highly educated horse.