

SOCCER

This is Lionel Herson taking you among the seventy thousand enthusiasts at Manchester's Maine Road ground for football's International curtain raiser. They paid £12,000 to charity to see Scotland hold England to a lucky draw. White shirted England did most of the attacking and Scots goalie Willie Miller did most of the work.

England's star of the game was Stoke City's wizard-footed Stanley Matthews. Watch these feet making football look just too easy.

Now for England's first goal. Scorer, sharpshooting veteran Don Welsh of Charlton. England roars but Scots aren't down hearted.

England goalie Swift saves - but here's a scoring header from Scots Centre Thomson.

Tiger Shaw handled in the penalty box and Don Welsh puts England ahead. And after that England faded out and the Scotsmen took over.

Badly short of match practice, England will have to do better than this to win the season's international honours.

They deserved it and here it is. 5 minutes short of time. A centre and Thomson bangs it in for Scotland. Two goals each and Manchester hears a Hampden roar.
