

2-F88101
2-885101

CRIME WAVE

Baker Street and Sherlock Holmes background two women's private battle against Britain's crime wave. Good-looking sleuth on the right is Trixie Etheridge; the senior detective is Annette Kerner. Chief crime in the female Sherlock's log-book is blackmail. How does it work? Here's Pathe's John Parsons finding out.

SPEECH

And now, over to the civilian Night Guards.

SOUND

And so, if you want your own personal policeman to keep a weather eye open for housebreakers, you call in the Night Guards. After that, if you hear noises in the night, you can be sure it's the cat and not cat-burglars.