No it's not Wales. Pathe's home reporters attend the Cornish Gorsedd at Perran Round. Ancient West Country ritual returns. Local watchers voted it the most successful Gorsedd since 1928.

Honoured Guest was Arch-Druid Crwys of Wales. A vast natural amphitheatre - once the scene of outdoor plays - Perran Round is a living example of the endurance and strength of our traditional ceremonies. In Cornwall, the Bards gather.

In West Brunswick, war veterans march past Admiral Dunbar-Nasmith, V.C. Occasion is the Victory thanksgiving parade of the town's ex-servicemen.

Two thousand men and women file past the war memorial, and in Dartmouth Park the Bishop of Stafford conducted the drum head service. West Brunswick honours its citizens contribution to two world wars.

Through the streets of Atlantic City go the semi-finalists in the perennial contest for the title "Miss America". Prize 5,000 dollars. You can have wars and atom bombs but - so it seems - there must always be a Miss America.

The blue-eyed 21 year-old is Miss California.

And here's the winner. Go West, young man, said the Judges and picked Marilyn Buford of Hollywood. She got the Miss America crown and a catty kiss from last-year's queen.
