PEOPLE IN CAMERA

After a record ocean-crossing the "Queen Mary" waits in Southampton. Come aboard and we introduce you to General Eisenhower, his wife and son, Captain John Eisenhower. The General is here for a private visit to His Majesty the King at Balmoral.

In these informal shots we greet a great soldier and a good friend.

Also aboard the Mary, our glamour-eyed cameramen met up with American fashion-platers Martha Montgomery, Mary Brewer, Karen Gaylord, Irene Vernon, Diana Mumby - and down the line to Mary Ellen Gleason. And here they are with six British girls who will soon be heading U.S. Wards. For a closer view of American beauty, join our reporter.

Here, in City Square, Dundee, Lord Provost Sir Garnet Wilson accompanies Princess Elizabeth. The Royal visitor came for the opening of the town's new Comperden Park. First duty was the inspection of the Sea Cadets and Sea Rangers Guard of Honour.

From the ex-Sea Ranger Princess, a professional check-up.

Sharing her parents deep affection for Scotland, reports say Princess Elizabeth thoroughly enjoyed her Dundee visit.

Star man at London Airport is Lord Winster, Minister of Civil Aviation. Star plane is the new Lancastrian. Lord Winster was there to fly in the world's first jet-propelled air liner. Just one more mechanical triumph to show that Britain certainly can make it.

Conventional screw-engines take-off, in the air the jets are used alone.
