ONE MINUTE NEWS

The trade-mark, a rabbit out of a hat. That was act one when London's Institute of Magicians set off to entertain fellow funny men at Brighton. The horseplay was energetic, but a bit on the familiar side. A case of cameras "coming through the corn."

And when the last drop of laughter has been squeezed out of the belly, a bus-load of magic goes off at one horse power.

At Baldersby, Yorkshire, yet another plane disaster. A Halifax aircraft, on the way to its base at Dishforth, crashed in daylight near the main roadway to Thirsk. Wreckage was scattered over a wide area. On the death roll, four airmen. From a public disturbed by the sudden leap in air-death figures comes the question, "What's wrong with our peace-time flying?"

Lord Chancellor, Lord Jowitt, leads a procession of Britain's Judges, Referees, E.C.'s and Supreme Court Officers. From Westminster Abbey they go to the Lord Chancellor's reception at the House of Commons.

In a place of honour walked Lord Justice Lawrence, the man of Nuremberg.

Reports our cameraman, "From the judges, an air of dignity; from their robes, a smell of mothballs."

Also being received by the Lord Chancellor is London's Lord Mayor-Elect, Sir Bracewell Smith and his daughter. From our reporters, third story, third minute.
