WALES 3 SCOTLAND 1
TOMMY WALKER

Well, this is me starting a new way of watching a soccer international. This was at Wrexham where Wales, in striped kits, played Scotland in dark shirts. While it was going on, I was helping Chelsea to beat Portsmouth.

There are two things I want to say about this game. First, Wales won 3-1 and they deserved it. Second, the hero of the match was Arsenal's 37 year old Bryn Jones of Wales. And, even though I'm a Scot, I'm glad to say that Bryn, like me, is an inside forward.

Now, back to the game. From all the stuff Pathe's cameramen took, I've picked out the two stars for you. Watch out for Bryn Jones, No. 10 and Scotland's top-scoring right winger, Willie Waddell, No. 7.

Now watch this terrific footwork by Welsh left-winger Edwards. A ground-level pass to Bryn Jones, No. 10, and Bryn sends the forwards away.

In the second half Scotland attacked. And that brings outside right, Willie Waddell No. 7 into the picture. A bit of slick shooting and good work by Welsh goalie, Sidlow. Here's Waddell again beating Welsh skipper, Billie Hughes and Tottenham's Ron Burgess.

Now Waddell centres to Blair and a skidding tackle by Whitcomb gives Scotland a penalty. After that, penalty specialist Waddell did the rest.

That was Scotland's only reply to Wales 3 goals. Thanks to Bryn Jones, the Welsh boys earned a 3-1 win.
