

For the sixth round Cup Tie our sports reporters went to Bramahll Lane, Sheffield, for the Newcastle-Sheffield United match. The camera got the first headache, Sheffield's red and white stripes and Newcastle's black and white looked very much alike. We spotlight the fast moving Tynesider forward. Whirling around the Sheffield defence, Pearson number eleven made the openings for many Newcastle attacks. Their £40,000 forward line was made of the stuff that wins the Cup. The first Newcastle goal came when inside forward Bentley converted a harsh decision penalty. Pace and precision told. Newcastle played the better football. Sheffield started as favourites but were right out of form. The Tynesiders reward came when goal number two was scored at point-blank range by outside right Malbourne. In the second half Sheffield, two goals down, were always on the move, but the Newcastle defence held firm. Here is Newcastle outside left Collingridge No.11. who kept the attack going. The Tynesiders were solid even though all the Sheffield's team were in the Newcastle half. And by the way, Sheffield's back, Cox number three, was a bit too free with his arms. Our verdict, the better team won. Newcastle now meet Charlton, winners of our Cup Tie number two.

THE SIXTH ROUND

In London we're in at the Charlton Preston tie. Here again form was upset. Winning by two goals to one, Charlton in dark jerseys go into the semi-final. Spotighting their attack, outside right Hurst number seven does some smart moving work. Here Hurst beats Preston defender Scott number three. Better tacticians on a dangerous ground Charlton were trying all the time - the Preston defenders had a hard time. Charlton's first goal was a lucky one, Preston's goalie Fairbrother missed the ball passed back to him, Duffy nipped in and the ball was in the net. The Charlton forwards with Bill Robinson number nine and Dawson number eight were pressing hard. Playing with ten men Charlton deserved the breaks. Injured Ravel number six played outside right, was keen and full of go. With the score at one each in the second half we pick out international outside right Tom Finney number seven. He didn't have much chance. Charlton marked him down all the time. Charlton go on to meet Newcastle on a much disputed goal scored in a goalmouth scramble by outside right Hurst.
