PEOPLE IN CAMERA

The stars are on parade at a London Theatre. It's a close up of the men who make you laugh. George Robey, in farmer's smock, has turned programme seller in aid of the Farmers' Distress Fund. Here is top heavyweight comedian Oliver Hardy taking up all the space, but partner Stan Laurel isn't far away. It's little Stan who always suffers.

Also in the bucket business, Tommy Trinder, back again from Australia.

Arriving a little late, Sid Field. He was trying hard to dodge the programme selling - but the boys wouldn't let him get away. All the proceeds of their work went to aid those farmers who suffered disastrous losses during the floods.
