LINCOLN LINES UP WITH STH. AFRICA

Lincoln celebrates South Africa Day. This ancient English town (its Cathedral dates back to the 12th century) joins hands across 8,000 miles with the youngest dominion. Mr. Heaton Nicholls, South Africa's High Commissioner is received by the Dean. In the Chapter House, the Mayor - Councillor Kerry - linking his city with Pietermaritzburg, capital of Natal Province says:-

SOUND

By telephone, the Mayor of Lincoln greets the Lady Mayor of Pietermaritzburg.

Transocean telephone lays the foundation of new friendships between two peoples. To the High Commissioner, Councillor Kerry presents a fruit bowl made from Cathedral oak.
