

R.A.F. WIN KING'S CUP AT BISLEY SHOOTING

On Malley's thousand yards range, service marksmen shoot it out in the final stage of the King's Prize.

Britain's most important rifle shooting test, was won this year by Warrant-Officer Bennett of the Royal Air Force. Here he is in action.

For the second year in succession the King's Prize goes to the R.A.F. The day ended with the traditional chair ceremony and the playing of "See the Conquering Hero comes."
