

48/21

WORLD AT YOUR ELBOW

HAIFA -

The drenching rain pouring over Mount Harmil soaks them, they have ^{the} usual mountain kit to hand, but non troops ever left a foreign land filled with less regret. The wives whose sense of duty kept them by their husbands side are relieved at last of the anxieties and fears that threatened every home in Palestine.

Nearing the end of his task the British soldier can truly claim to have set the world its highest standard in discipline maintained in faith of unexampled provocation. His tolerance and good humour seemed fated to be tested to the bitter end. Where is your embarkation ticket? Where is your AB 64 part 2? And where will United Nations find its substitutes for Tommy Atkin.