

PEOPLE IN CAMERAMarshall Planning

Joined in common purpose - at a meeting called by Britain's Arthur Deakin - are delegates to the International Trade Union Conference. Representing 13 nations, they believe that a prosperous Europe can only be built-up with American aid. Their aim is to ensure organized labour's support for the Marshall Plan - for it is upon the people that success of the recovery programme will depend. Summing up Britain's Vincent Lawson says:

Home Planning

In a two hour visit to Olympia's Ideal Home Exhibition Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh (still busily engaged in building up their own ideal home) keep their eyes open for useful tips.

As is only natural in a young wife, Elizabeth finds many things that appeal to her at the pastry stand. Perhaps because he is newly married, Philip takes a more than usual interest in cookery gadgets and doesn't try a hasty-get-away. On the other hand, there is nothing more annoying for a husband than to be kept away from exhibits that appeal especially to him. Philip is indeed fortunate. His wife (setting a good example to others) gives him a break in this respect.
