EASTER PARADE - 1948

Cycling and hiking -

What an Easter, sunshine records for the century are broken and the whole population seems to be out of doors. For cyclists the highways are wide open. The basic man keeps cars in the garage and the petrol stations idle. The pony comes into its own again and even other peoples ponies are called upon to get the holiday makers out into the countryside.

Westerham -

The travellers with enough leg power to get them to Westerham in Kent, the parish church presents an interesting scene. The month old son of Mrs. Chistopher Soames, Mary Churchill, is christened Arthur Nicholas Winston. The genetlemen from whome he takes the last christian name seems reluctant to steal any of his grandsons limelight. A little coaxing by the press photographer gets the family group together until the youngest member gives the order to get moving. The home of Captain and Mrs Soames is the scene of the christening party. Doing the honours with the christening cake is young Winston son of Randolph Churchill. All the guests have contributed a share of the ingredients and it looks like a mighty good mixture. It's a family Easter at home for three generations of Churchills and grandson No.5 does his best to make the holiday a rememberable one.
