BEAUTY IN THE BATH

A galaxy of bathing beauties, who don't mind getting wet - splash into a damp ballet with the pool as their stage - to open America's most dazzling water show - Minneapolis Aquatennial.

Now for a pinwheel pattern that's full of kick.

These specimens look waterlogged before they hit the pool. They must be the backwash of the Olympic diving team. If they'd been at Wembley, perhaps we might have won a title too. Is there a lifeguard in the house?

X A dazzling water show climaxes Minneapolis' ninth and greatest Aquaticennial. Bathing beauties who don't mind getting wet splash into a damp ballet with the pool as their stage.

X Now - a pinwheel pattern that packs a lot of kick.

X These specimens look water-logged before they hit the pool. This must be the backwash of the Olympic team. Is there a lifeguard in the house?
