appears in print in my country about what happens on our side and in cases what does not happen.

'It's too silly in our economy with the world demands and the demands of the people upon it to go on making munitions and arming people.

Let us then begin at the military committee.

Let us go to atomic energy, let us go to the deadly weapons, let's open our countries to inspection all of us, Let's open up the world and let light and knowledge come in and see what each other's doing and the actual physical arms will settle itself.'
