

RITA AND ALY FLY TO FRANCE

At Greydon, the private "Dove" aircraft of Prince Aly Khan, son of the multi-millionaire Aga Khan, awaits its two publicity-scorched passengers, the 38-year-old Prince himself - and the girl the world is talking about, Hollywood star and dream-goddess of American manhood, Rita Hayworth. Twice-married, Rita is forfeiting a fifteen-hundred pound a week film salary to make the gossip-laden journey with her Prince.

Rita's daughter, Rebecca, is the four-year-old co-passenger of a trip that began in New York and has so far touched Dublin and London. Their destination is the French Riviera. Oh for the wings of a dove.
