

49/11PLANES COLLIDE IN MID-AIR

At New York's Mitchell Air Field, passengers alight from a London-bound Constellation, which made a miraculous emergency landing after a mid-air collision. It was dusk as a private plane hurtled into the passenger liner, leaving this 15-foot gash. Both occupants of the small aircraft were killed, but all 33 aboard the air liner touch down safely 20 minutes later and only ten miles away from the spot where they took off.
