EXCELSIOR HOTEL BALL

=====

Rome. A ball was given in aid of the United Nations Fund, and one of the original touches was the management's request that all ladies wear eccentric head-dresses.

Most of Rome's society was there; some of the people seen are: ~~The~~ Countess de Minerbi and Capodilista, British Ambassador Sir Victor Mallet and Lady Mallet, the Marchesa di Rende and the Duke of Guevara, Mrs Heredia, Mrs Yturbe and the Marchese Malaspina; and many others.

Prizes were given for the best headress, the most amusing, and most becoming; they were handed to the winners Suni Agnelli, Vera Simoni, and the Countess Scribani, by Anna Magnani Italy's most famous actress (of Rome, Open City).
