

49/14

BRIGHTER LOOK FOR HOSPITALS WAITING ROOMS

A new deal for out-patients. Setting an example to others, the National Hospital, London, leads the way towards the end of "hospital blues." Ridding its waiting-rooms of the cold, unfriendly atmosphere of the old days, the Hospital now boasts all the comforts of a club-room. Hours of waiting on hard benches are a thing of the past in the hospitals of the future, where they know that the best relief for all ailments is a nice hot cup of tea.

Waiting rooms with comfortable chairs, a warm fire, flowers and someone to talk to about your operation, will someday be the service for everyone. Just what the doctor ordered!