

105 F 8501

P. MOHAN

5th February 1949.

ROYAL WESTERN INDIA TURF
CLUB, BOMBAY.

HORSE RACING IN BOMBAY - THE INDIAN DERBY.

It is said that Bombay's Turf Club is second to none in the British Commonwealth. The climate being tropical, the racing season in Bombay starts in December and ends sometime in April. Latest fashion amongst the fair sex both Indian and Western adds colour in the Members Enclosure. The Indian Derby which is the biggest meeting of the season is always well attended.

Members of the club are seen entering the special enclosure.

A bookie with a turban on his head is seen on his stand.

Horses are seen being taken round the paddock with the crowds gathered on all sides.

Several shots of the Turf club crowds in different enclosures.

Crowds in the third class stand. A shot of one of the races.

ROLL 2. The start of the Indian Derby. The horses are coming out to take their positions. Close shots of the favourites BALAM, who won the Derby and THE PRINCE OF RAMGARH with the English jockey Bill Rickby up. The horses leave the starting point. BALAM and the PRINCE OF RAMGARH pass the Win post. The winner Balam after the race. Presentation of cups.