

The Kentucky Derby of Motorcycling draws a hundred and fifty daredevils to Daytona Beach, Florida, for the eighth annual National Championship Two-Hundred Mile Race. With the turns banked more steeply this year, more than speed records are expected to fall today.

Dick Klanfoth, of Grevesport, Ohio, holds his lead on the last of the races gruelling forty-nine laps and goes on to win in record time: Over eighty-five miles an hour.