

SPORTS - GOLF

Youngson Donaldson

X At Augusta, Georgia, the thirteenth Masters Golf Tournament goes into its fourth round as Lloyd Mangrum tees off. A record gallery of fifteen thousand watches Johnny Bulla send that pellet into the wild blue yonder, then turns its attention to Slamin' Sammy Snead. Sammy, who trailed by five strokes at the half way mark, settles down to a brilliant golfing performance. At the sixteenth hole, Snead, who is to score eight birdies in his final round, tries a long one. Watch the fan in the foreground. His reaction tells the story of a near miss.

X At the eighteenth and final hole, it's a twenty footer. Sammy can make this in three and still win - but he does it the champion's way. With two great concluding rounds of sixty-seven each, veteran pro Sammy Snead makes a stunning comeback to win the Masters Tournament.