

TARHEEL

WEIST

L-FHC501

WOLF

At Fort Bragg, North Carolina, sixty-two C-52 Packets prepare for a surprise airborne attack. It's part of operation Tarheel, a vast training exercise/<sup>based</sup> on the assumption that a mythical Aggressor has seized a base within the United States. The Commander of the Defense Forces, finding Aggressor ~~defense~~ resistance stiffening, decides to create a second front within/<sup>the</sup> Aggressor's lines. He orders the Eighty-Second Airborne Division into action.

X
The Aggressor's defenses crumble under the assault by air