

LABOUR STAGES ELECTION YEAR CONFERENCE

Blackpool (tuning up for a bumper season) greets the Labour Party, enjoying a last council of war before the General Election. Chief policy-maker, Herbert Morrison (setting the stage for the electoral battle) speaks about the nationalized industries, with the Premier among his listeners.

SPEECH

Making "Up with Production" his call to the nation, Mr. Morrison goes on to say:-

SPEECH

On the following day, an evation greets that old conference favourite, Ernest Bevin, paying a flying visit to Blackpool from his deliberations in Paris. The Foreign Secretary gains overwhelming support from the delegates as he gives them a review of the international situation.

SPEECH