WINSTON - GRANDFATHER FOR THE SIXTH TIME.

At Fletching Church in Sussex, three generations of Churchills meet. With their parents are two-year-old Nicholas Soames - Winston's grandson - and two-months-old Emma Mary Soames - about to be christened. Mrs. Duncan Sandys - is with two more of the Churchill grandchildren - nine-year-old Edwina and four-year-old Delia Mary. Mr. Duncan Sandys was a former Minister of Works in Mr. Churchill's Government. Accompanying the old warrior, are his wife and his son Randolph.

Nearly all Fletching crowds the entrance to the little parish church at the end of the service. They've come to wish luck to the sixth Churchill grandchild - Emma Mary Soames - first daughter of the former Miss Mary Churchill, who was her father's travelling companion during many of his war-time travels.

It's a family occasion, and not even the presence of the most famous of Churchills can steal the limelight from the most important person of the day - newly christened Emma Mary.
