

DOWN-AND-OUTS RACE FOR THE JUNK HEAP

The thrill merchants put on a hee-ligan jamboree in California. It's a 24-car jalopy race on a dirt track, an all-out battle where anything can happen - and usually does!

Miraculously, no one ever gets seriously hurt in this latest form of sporting madness, now sweeping the States. It's a contest where recklessness usually pays off.

When Americans tire of this junkheap race, they should try importing some London taxis. A Cockney cabby could even show these boys a thing or two!
