

BELGIUMBRITISH MOTOR CYCLES SWEEP THE BOARD

It's the Belgian Grand Prix for 350 c.c. machines - with 52 crack riders from eleven nations going round the bend.

They've eleven laps to cover, with risk of bad collision. It's a breakneck fight for position.

British riders force the pace throughout. They go on to win first seven places.

First three home - at 97-miles-per-hour. Good work, Bob Foster. D'you play soccer, too?
