SOUTHAMPTON

To welcome Seretse Khama, his wife Ruth and daughter come Mrs. Williams and Muriel Williams, Ruth's mother and sister. First interest is baby Jacqueline.

Next comes Ruth herself.

Almost overlooked in the excitement is Seretse Khama himself, the man who lost the chieftainship of the Batswagate through his marriage to a white girl. With his wife and daughter - now three months old and weighing 10½ pounds - he begins his five years exile. While they find a home they are guests of the Government. With them is Seretse's sister, to share the exile.

LUXEMBOURG

As Princess Alix, 21-year-old youngest daughter of the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg and Prince Felix is married to Prince Antoine de Ligne, Captain in the Belgian Air Force, ties of friendship between two Benelux countries are drawn even closer.

Afterwards the happy pair walk through the streets as the crowd wishes them the traditional fairy tale ending when Prince marries Princess.

DEAUVILLE

Playground of the rich, the pleasure resort not far from the Normandy beach-head is having a big season. With his young wife is the famous Dutch painter Van Dongen.

At the races where an English filly won the big two-year-old race is Rita Hayworth, Princess Aly Khan.

Nearby is her husband, and in a box is the lovely Begum Aga Khan.

Centre of interest is the Golf Hotel, where King Farouk of Egypt is staying.

With rumours of the King's impending marriage, cameramen are kept busy, but so far there's been no glimpse of the lady in question.

Often to be seen on the golf links is His Highness the Aga Khan, spiritual head of millions.

Can you putt? The Aga can!
