HIGHLANDERS IN KOREA

To the skirl of pipes, H.M.S. CHEYLON docks at Pusan with the first battalion, the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders on their way to re-inforce the Americans.

Unfortunately for the crowd the men wear jungle-green (only the band wears the kilt) but they're just as welcome. South Korea needs all the help she can get. Already these men have been in action and suffered their casualties. With the Middlesex men they're Somewhere in Korea - Jock and Cockney once again fighting side by side.
