FAREWELL DANCE FOR WEST INDIES

At Hammersmith Town Hall, the joint's jumping when the West Indian Students Union celebrate the Test victory.

Without Ramadhin, who's on the way to India, Valentine is kept very busy signing. And here are Williams with the Union President Carbury, fast bowlers Prier Jones of today and Clarke of the 1937 team, and wicketkeeper Walcott (Jersey Joe to the test crowds). With them joining in the fun is the Mayor of Hammersmith and the Colonial Secretary, Jim Griffiths.

And here are Seretse Khama and wife Ruth with Arthur Wint of the giant strides and his wife. And not far away is Arthur's track-colleague Macdonald Bailey and Mrs. Bailey. It's hail and farewell to the West Indies team from the West Indians in London but all England will like to join in to wish good luck to a fine sporting side.
