

THE MESSAGE OF THE CROSSES

Close by the Old Abbey they dedicate the Empire Field of Remembrance, and these in Korea are not forgotten. The Argylls and the Middlesex of the United Nations force.

In the wars of our land the great with the lowly share the chance of fate on fields distant and near, leaving behind them those who remember husband or son or brother who did not come back.

The Field of Remembrance was founded by Major Howson. The little crosses, each the symbol of someone's grief, speak year by year their mute message. Until it is heeded, these died in vain.
