

CHILDREN IN THE NEWS

It's free balloons for the clients of one bank in Cleveland, Ohio. They cater for children only and all the fittings are made to measure. The youngsters make their own deposits and withdrawals on simplified slips that are easy to fill in. There are more than 60,000 depositors, and all together they have more than a million pounds in deposits. It's much more exciting than just popping it into a money-box.

Seven-year-old Vicki Mariles is a sensation in the American jumping world. She takes jumps the cracks use in international competitions. Now she's trying to go one better, but Poblano jibs at six feet.

Five feet is the limit in international competitions - and again he jibs.

Here she goes again ... and she's over. Vicki's father is captain of the famous Mexican Army team. For such a youngster it's a good show. The horse did pretty well, too!
