

PEOPLE IN THE NEWSWashington

The President's daughter, Margaret Truman, is doubly in the news. First, that letter of the President and now this:-

Reporter:

"Margaret, are those rumours true that you're about to announce your engagement?"

Margaret:

"Well Ruth, I'll tell you. All the gentlemen to whom I'm rumoured engaged are very charming, very intelligent and a lot of fun, but I'm not engaged, I have not been and at the moment I don't intend to be."

New York

The Windsors also scotch rumours about themselves - pointedly. To American rumours of an estrangement they answer eloquently without saying a word. The Duke has just returned on the "Queen Elizabeth" after a three weeks solo trip to London and Paris. The journey alone caused reports of an impending separation. But, now is the rumour of their discontent made glorious summer by this fun of New York, as Shakespeare might have said.
