

1088520

LONDON

SCHOOLBOYS' EXHIBITION

It's good to be a boy of anything from 7 to 70 when the Schoolboys' own Exhibition is on. For instance, you can sail a really sporty but safe dinghy without getting more than three sheets in the wind. Or, if you're that way inclined, you can go all farmer and see how the up-to-date push-button service works, with Duchess and her nine assistants demonstrating. They're part of the farming stand.

For the air-minded there's the cockpit of a Meteor to see how it feels to fly a 600-miles-an-hour fighter.

You wouldn't think they'd be thrilled with basket-making, would you? But there's no knowing, and this Exhibition caters for all. Well, there's always the Navy and here's a nice "family-model" torpedo to be getting on with. And passing from that we come to a sea mine, with a real sailor to explain. Now, when a ship bumps this 'ere a fat lot of good "that there" will do you!