CAR BEFORE THE HORSE

BEXLEY

When nine-year-old Graham Goodbarns opens up, mother shuts down to keep out the noise, as his one-horse-power motor roars to life. He gets one hundred laps to a pint and aren't the pedal-car merchants envious! Still, they can go on the road, but he mustn't without a licence.

BIRMINGHAM.

Mrs. Lowe's pony "Bantty" can go anywhere: he has the run of the house. Less than a yard tall, he's a perfect miniature of a horse, and behaves like a perfect little gentleman. And isn't he affectionate!

In these high-price days, Mrs. Lowe is a very lucky housewife. There's one piece of furniture she needn't buy.
