

RHYL: FORMATION DANCE CONTEST

It's a great night at the Queen's Ballroom and here's the Rhyl team in the first annual North Wales Old Time Formation Dance Contest. It's open to Great Britain, and teams from Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Risca, Rummy and St. Helens are competing.

Formation dancing with its beauty of picture and grace of movement is deservedly regaining great popularity. Now the change to the tango.

Rhyl tie for third place as the Mayor and Mayoress watch, and now it's Manchester's turn to take the floor.

There's a full house of about fifteen hundred watching. The great revival of old time dancing is one of the delights of today. Maybe it's because it's real dancing and not just the modern animated cuddle. Whatever it is, Rhyl seems to like it and everybody's having a grand time.

All good things come to an end and that's where we've reached. There's just time for the judges to decide and the Mayor presents winners—diplomas to the Manchester team coaches.
