

1015401
51/40

SPORT THRILLS AT WHITE CITY

With British athletics looking up, the crowd expect big things as the starter gets the competitors away in the international 220. Off like a flash MacDonald Bailey (lying fourth) takes the lead, with McKenley of Jamaica chasing him. Winner of the hundred and the 300 yards, McKenley is good, but you can't let Bailey get away from you like this and catch him up ... and MacDonald Bailey wins comfortably by four yards.

Star attraction is Roger Bannister, No. 1 on the outside, in the mile.

Bannister drops in behind Harting of Holland. Four laps to go and there's no hurry yet, but watch his beautiful style. Experts predict he'll be first man to do a mile in four minutes. What he did to the American cracks is something America won't soon forget. Any moment now we expect that sensational burst and here it comes! Just look at him! He seems to go faster and faster every stride.

With 40 yards to spare, Bannister beats an international field in truly brilliant style.