

51/55

KOREA AWAITS "CEASE FIRE"

This is Kaesong ... where the "cease fire" talks are in hand. Word that the Reds had agreed to talk brought cheers from United Nations troops along the 38th parallel, where ... almost exactly a year ago ... the Korean war began. This is Seoul, after that year of war. The flag of the Republic of Korea flies again over her capital, for the forces of the United Nations have successfully driven the Red invader out of the republic. But this is the cost.

Orphans and the aged alone remain in the city that once was home to nearly a million - a city fought through four times within one year as the tides of battle changed. As the world now looks hopefully for peace in Korea, yet one more city cries out to all the world the price of aggression.

where the 'ceasefire' are in hand,

~~This is Kaesong -- the site proposed by the Reds for truce talks.~~

had agreed to bring

United Nations

~~And word that the reds will talk brings cheers to GPs along the~~

38th parallel, where -- almost exactly a year ago -- the Korean war began. This is Seoul, after that year of war. The flag of the Republic of Korea flies again over her capital, for the forces of the United Nations have successfully driven the Red invader out of the republic.

But this is the cost.

52.14

Orphans and the aged alone remain in the city that once was home to nearly a million -- a city fought through four times within one year as the ~~kissed~~ tides of battle ~~shifted~~ changed. As the world now looks hopefully for peace in Korea, the shell of this once-proud city

~~the victor's capital~~ cries out to all the world the price of war

~~even to the victor.~~ aggression.