

PERSIA REJECTS HAGUE RULING

Teheran - the Madisons, Iran's Parliament is in session. There are few voices of reason as the oil crisis increases. Deputy Maeki (extremist and one of the oldest members) carries much weight. Parliament reflects the hysterical mood of the people. Home Minister Zahedi speaks of sabotage and is readily believed. Zahedi's and Maeki's influence led to defiance of the Hague.

Dr. Mossadeq, the Persian Premier, (here at home with his son and grand-daughter), turned down President Truman's offer of mediation. Mossadeq carries a noble name. It means:- "One tried and found worthy." Let him be worthy of Persia and the peace of the world.
