Wallingey

It's the A.S.A. National championships at the New Brighton Pool and there goes 15-year-old champion Ann Long of Ilford. Perfect conditions and an all-round high standard of skill makes the event a delight for the holiday crowd.

The really clever divers do all sorts of things to pass the time on the way down; and they make a real day of it as they hurry from one dive to the next!

London

With Prince Philip, Princess Elisabeth arrives at the Horse Show to see the competition for her Cup. It's open to lady riders of any nationality, and here's Mrs. Llewellyn, wife of "Foxhunter's" rider. Incidentally, the famous pair didn't win the King George V Cup this year. And now here comes Iris Kellett on "Rasty."

And so to the presentation. Polo ponies are more in Prince Philip's line ... but here's Iris Kellett to receive the Cup well earned by a brilliant performance.

Paris

Paris is two thousand years old so they're going to make a splash about it. I could say they were "insane" if they'd only chosen the river. Unfortunately, they picked the Vilette canal and we can't think of one for that!

You get the idea? If your resistance is low, you go overboard.

There's nothing to it: it's a pushover.
