- A. W. Churchill saying "Mr. Mayor Your Werhaip, Laides and Gentlemen, It is a great pleasure to me to come to Dover and to recieve from you this most honourable tribute to any work I have been able to do. (39) I was introduced to Dover long ago by becoming First Lord of the Admiralty in 1911 It is quite true I have one or two previous experiences (laughter) landing at this port of departing from it but these were of an entirely undrivate ad informal character.  2. S.V. Heard of who have come round the world have never succomebed until they came to these sinxmy stormy turbulent waters with such very rapid movement of the waves and the tides that rise and fall but what a blessing it has all been when translated from individual experiences into national growth, continuity and stability. But I was first introduced in a (51)
- 3. C.U It is our interest and our duty and if you like our Christian duty to do the best we can to blot out and sweep away the hatreds and roots and vengenaces of the past and to try to make a better and a broader world in which victors and vanquished shall be able to live together, which the old feuds will die and the old hatreds will vanish and those who stand by and those who have been taught to stand by the principles of freedom and law and honour will be able to work together for their further defence against any new dangers which may present themselves from any quarter (applause) (80)
- 4. M.V. All of a sudden out of the blue five or six thousands of Germans from Calais or somewhere else should pounce down in a ENIEVENTIP and run raid and seaze the castle and destroy the guns that were mounted here and how foolish we should have looked if ithad happened it ould have been worse than the Scharnhorst and the Gneishnau getting through the Straights which you no doubt remember (laughter through last sentence (50) fixe I took great pains about that because I was very anxious and several times I came but also the guns I mantioned something a bout them when the first world war came to an end
 - 5. S.V. Busineess withimportant visitors from other parts of the world in this gallery in the cliffes I hope you haven't blocked it up or closed it. Well all these are my memories of Dover during the 2nd world war and you have every right to be roud of the fact tat during all those years of history and especially in this tragic century in which we have been plunged Dover had played a valiant part never failing to do what was required of it never flinching in its duty never ruding the cost or the pain or the toilinvolved in those hight functions. I

 - 7. L.V. As paid to me and which will be very well preserved amongst my most valued possessions I thank you very much indeed for all your kindness
