

At an air force base somewhere in Korea, F-51 Mustangs of the U.S. and South African air forces prepare to take off as the air war is stepped up against the reds.

Cameras which operate automatically when pilots pull their gun or bomb triggers record the full fury of an air attack as the fighters unload rockets, jellied gas bombs, and machine guns on red installations troops and supplies.....

b-72E401