PRINCESS IN WINNIPEG

From Detroit across the river America joins the welcome to the Royal visitors in Windsor, Ontario; and in sight of America's great car-building centre, Windsor's Mayor demonstrates a gift for Prince Charles. At Jackson Park thousands of children have a date of their own with the Princess, and learn that they're to have a day's holiday to mark the visit.

At Winnipeg a plastic roof shields the royal couple against bitter weather as they drive through 17 miles of streets lined by a quarter-million people. Deer Ledge hospital nurses and war-wounded have a grandstand view, thanks to the transparent hood built over-night because of a sudden threat of snow.

Now they're waiting for the Princess to visit Parliament Buildings.

Gateway to the West, Winnipeg gives the royal couple a glimpse of the warm welcome that lies ahead of them through the rich prairie lands of Canada.
