WORLD NEWS

To London Airport the Star of Edinburgh brings Frank Sinatra with new wife Ava Gardner to keep a promise to the Duke of Edinburgh and sing at the Midnight Matinee in aid of the National Playing Fields Association of which the Duke of Edinburgh is President; it's a full house at the Coliseum to see a star-spangled programme which the newreels aren't allowed to film. This looks like the right cigar but the wrong gent! Anyway, it's £17,000 in the kitty as Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh take their seats for the show. But whilst the show was on thieves rebbed Frankie and Ava who had come so far to help such a good cause.

ITALY

Hard hit in the vast Italian floods is Lereco. Trains are still out off from this district, one of the most fertile in all Italy. Landing-craft manned by Italian marines pick up the trapped people, but getting the stock onboard is no easy job. So far there's no close estimate of the stock losses in the vast floods which have hit northern Italy. All the rescuers can do is to take them to high ground and hope that the floods will have cleared before they run out of fodder.

Holiday at Key West, Florida, is still a busy time for President Truman as work arrives from Washington daily by plane. Here, in the office of the little White House, the President deals with important matters, dictating to a naval yeoman. With Korean truce talks hanging fire, Mr. Truman informs Washington that he's returning a week earlier to lend a hand.
