

THE QUEEN AT BADMINTON

For the horse trials in which British entries for the Olympic games will be chosen, the Queen, with the Duke of Edinburgh, is the guest of the Duke of Beaufort. This is Major Rook on "Starlight" taking No. 12 jump. Now Major Miller on "Stella" tackles 'the Coffin.' It's the steeplechase horses they're looking for; the jumping horses have already been chosen. Now the Queen's in a good position as Mr. Hill takes "Banbridge Boy" over.

Now it's Captain Darley on "Emily Little." Picking out the best view-points in the course, the Queen views this obstacle from a farm cart.

At the water jump it's Miss Jane Drummond-Hay on "Abbeyfeale."

And here's Penelope Moreton on "Vigilant." To end this short glimpse, note how Brigadier Bolton's "Greytag" recovers from a bad jump at the water.
