

DUBLIN SPRING SHOW

An excellent show of cattle at the Royal Dublin Society Spring Show nearly didn't show, according to reports. It turned out to be a cock and bull yarn so the big crowd wasn't disappointed. Foot and Mouth disease, somebody whispered. There was nothing to it, but the bug-killers went into action just to be on the safe side, and a few exhibits were impounded in quarantine for checking.

Till the "All Clear" came it was a bit of a come-down for some of the Lords of the Show Ring! who had plenty to beef about! But if you go to a Dublin Show it's jumping you want to see, and here's Mr. Dudgeen on "Seaspray."

Now let's ask "Foxhunter" to show us how. His passenger is Colonel Llewellyn as usual.
