

PATHE NEWS 52/48

DUKE OF EDINBURGH AT BRAILLE CENTENARY EXHIBITION

Paramount

- 1. S.V. Exterior, Braille Centenary Exhibition sign. 5'
- 2. S.V. Interior, Two men at the Solid Dot braille printing machine. 6'
- 3. S.V. Braille sheets coming out of printing machine. 6'
- 4. C.U. Old type transcribing machine showing hammer and punch, pan up to new type transcribing machine, with blind operator at work. 17'
- 5. T.V. Duke of Edinburgh on platform. 7'
- 6. ~~XXI~~ C.U. Duke speaking. ~~This exhibition demonstrates its influence in many directions, how it has spread knowledge and culture and the ability to enjoy, appreciate and create works of literary and musical beauty and worth.~~ How it has enabled people to overcome the greatest difficulties of living without eyesight in the seeing world. How it has made it possible for blind people to be independent, self-supporting citizens, contributors to the national strength." 47'
- 7. S.V. "Braille has made the effort to conquer blindness an international crusade and thereby sows the potent seed of understanding and goodwill between nations." 18'
- 8. S.V. Two girls seated at desks working with braille. 6'
- 9. ~~S.V. Hands moving across braille book.~~ G.V. Interior, Duke of Edinburgh looking at printing press. 7'
- 10. S.V. Duke examining braille sheets. 8'
- 11. S.B.V. Duke, pan to two women operating transcribing machine. 6'
- 12. S.C.U. Blind operators at transcribing machine. 6'
- 13. S.V. Duke looking down and talking to little Helen Starns, who is about to read a section from braille book to him. 16'
- 14. C.U. Helen Starns reading from braille book. 50'
- 15. S.V. Duke walks over to another little girl. 10'
- 16. C.U. Hands moving across braille book. 7'
- 17. S.V. Bust of Louis Braille. 9'

17
34
41

18 ft max?

WITH TITLE APPROX 200 ft.

Orig A